

As we move into fall, it is a time to reflect on how we can practice awareness, understanding, and acknowledgment of the emotions that come with loss and change. Exploring these things together has always brought strength to the TAPS family. This legacy is one you are a part of - sharing and working together to build our resilience and grow our support network. We are never truly alone when we lean into those who have committed to extending the hand of friendship and support. Our shared experiences become part of a larger story of how we cope, engage with life, and find purpose. Joining with others in our darkest times is when we can see lights of hope radiating from those who have survived the unthinkable. We can learn to believe that what we are going through is survivable as we become part of a thriving community where our stories are held and honored - a place where people heal together - your TAPS family.

With you today and everyday,

Dragonflies: A Surviving Mother's Connection to Her Son

A surviving mother, Ruth Wiley found a renewed, lasting connection with her son after reading a special children's book at his funeral, comparing the life cycle of dragonflies to the loss of a loved one. Ruth has shared the story "Water Bugs and Dragonflies" with other survivors to help bring hope and healing along their grief journeys. Read her story.

Join Your Local TAPS Care Group

"I participated in my first care group today. I am so appreciative of the kindness and warmth shown to me by complete strangers that became friends in just 90 minutes! Being part of a group of people who understand is a gift." ~ TAPS Survivor

TAPS Care Groups bring the feel of TAPS into your community. These local support groups meet regularly and provide emotional support and camaraderie for military survivors in between the larger TAPS events.

Sports & Entertainment

Fall sports are kicking off! Our teams4taps program was created to provide opportunities for you to honor your fallen heroes with the teams they cheered for. Do you have a favorite sports memory with your loved one? We would love to hear it!

Please share your stories and/or photos with us by emailing teams4taps@taps.org.

Your Feedback is Important to Us

Every grief journey is unique. To better serve you and other survivors, please share with us the skills, tools, and resources that have helped you cope with your grief. We also would love to hear about the skills, tools, and resources you would like to learn so we may customize our programs and services to best support all those grieving the death of a military loved one.
